DEVON HERRELL

Devon Herrell currently serves as the pastor of the Lake Ann United Methodist Church. She began her ministry career as the associate pastor of the Traverse Bay congregation in 2005. Devon grew up as the daughter of the church pianist and has a true love for music and worship. God's call to the pastoral ministry came while she was an undergraduate student at Ohio Northern University, which then led to Atlanta, GA where she attended Candler School of Theology. She believes however, that the real learning has come only in the practice of ministry. Devon enjoys being outside, in her kayak, on her mountain bike, playing basketball, or just taking a walk with her dog Couper. Devon is excited and thankful for the opportunity to speak with the United Methodist Women, as she recognizes the valuable ministry that has been done by women in the United Methodist Church. She hopes to empower and encourage women, young and not so young, to be bold as we move forward into the future.
